Hi all -

Unfortunately, due to upcoming Spring Break weeks in Portland (week of March 27) and Seattle (week of April 3) and other schedule conflicts, it doesn't look like we'll be able to do the Eco Framework tech meeting until April 11.

This date was originally scheduled for the CSM discussion, and so the other meeting topics will be pushed back one week. The schedule of Tuesday meetings will be:

Eco Framework: April 11
CSM: April 18
Feasibility Study: April 25
Modeling team: May 2

Per Jim McKenna's discussion with Eric, the submission of the LWG response to EPA December 2 and February 17 letters has been postponed. The LWG expects to deliver the comments by April 7, so that the Agency teams will have the comments prior to the Ecorisk Framework discussion.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns with this proposal.

Thanks
Valerie

Thanks, Jim. I think we should work within the constraints you've outlined. It is important to have these sessions soon, but it is also critical to have the key people in attendance. Thanks.

Valerie,
None of those dates work for us, with the possible exception of Thurs 4/6. The last week of 3/06 is Spring break & many people will be gone. It crucial that Jennifer Peterson from DEQ attend the ERA mtg, & she works Mon, Tues, Wed, & part of Thurs. It would be my strong preference not to schedule the ERA mtgs on any Thurs or Fri...., but rather Mon, Tues, or Wed.

Hi all -

After further consultation with the LWG ecorsik team, April 4 is not the ideal date for the meeting on the framework. Instead, I would like to suggest March 30 or April 6, or April 7.

Please get back to me as soon as you can concerning availability on these dates!

Thanks
Valerie
